

Hi there,

It's been an active few months here at OnSite Physio and we wanted to share with you some of the exciting happenings!

Conference Updates

First, we'll be in Philadelphia for the RIMS Annual Conference and Exhibition, April 23 – 26.

Next month, we head to the National Council on Compensation Insurance's Annual Issues Symposium at the Loews's Portofino Bay Hotel at Universal Orlando, May 17 – 19.

We have meetings planned with some of the workers' compensation industry's highest profile thought leaders, as well as industry editors and reporters. Please let us know if you plan to attend either event, as we would welcome the opportunity to get together.

We've been invited to present a session at the Self Insurance Institute of America's annual National Educational Conference & Expo, Oct. 8 – 10 at the JW Marriott Desert Ridge Resort & Spa in Phoenix. The session, Medical Services On Demand: A Look at New Delivery Models, will explore mobile medical services — the benefits, challenges and outcomes. We are honored to have our own Daniel Sanchez, VP of Operations, joined by Dr. Teresa Bartlett, Senior VP for Medical Quality at Sedgwick, and Michael Coupland, CEO and Network Medical Director of Integrated Medical Case Solutions.

New Team Member!

We're proud to welcome Michelle Morissette to the OSP Family! As our newest Account Manager, she will primarily serve the Florida area. Michelle brings an extensive, 28-year industry background, having worked for such companies as pharmacy benefit manager PMSI (now Optum), and One Call Comprehensive Care. We are excited to have her on board!

OSP In the News

We also wanted to share some of the great online and print media coverage we've received. Here are a few of the most recent articles.
